Policy Overview

01. Purpose, scope, and governance

This handbook defines simulated internal operating rules for Meridian Demo Bank. It is intended for training and retrieval-augmented generation testing only. It does not represent a real financial institution or regulatory guidance.

Operating rule / escalation

All employees and contractors must consult the current approved policy version before taking customer-facing action.

What does the bank policy say about policy overview?

Customer Onboarding

02. Eligibility and account opening

Applicants must be at least 18 years old for an independently operated standard savings account. Minor accounts require an approved guardian and a separate product workflow.

Operating rule / escalation

Account opening requires identity verification, address confirmation, risk screening, and acceptance of account terms.

Know Your Customer

03. Identity verification

Acceptable identity documents in this fictional policy include a valid passport, driving licence, or other approved government identity credential. Documents must be legible and unexpired.

Operating rule / escalation

Any mismatch in name, date of birth, or photograph must be escalated to the onboarding review team before activation.

What evidence or thresholds apply to know your customer?

Address Verification

04. Proof of residence

A recent utility bill, registered lease, or approved government address record may be used as proof of residence. The document should ordinarily be dated within 90 days.

Operating rule / escalation

Customers without conventional address documents must be referred to the enhanced verification queue.

Savings Account Rules

05. Minimum balance and charges

The Meridian Standard Savings account has a fictional average monthly balance requirement of INR 5,000. The Student Savings account has no minimum balance requirement.

Operating rule / escalation

For this training scenario only, a shortfall charge of INR 100 applies when the standard-account monthly average is below the threshold; charges are waived for the first 60 days.

Current Account Rules

06. Business account eligibility

Business current accounts require registration evidence, authorized signatory details, beneficial ownership declaration, and business address verification.

Operating rule / escalation

Cash-intensive businesses receive an additional risk review. The branch cannot waive beneficial ownership checks.

Transaction Limits

07. Daily digital transfer limits

The fictional daily outgoing transfer limit is INR 100,000 for newly activated retail customers and INR 500,000 after 30 days with successful verification.

Operating rule / escalation

A higher limit requires a documented request, second-factor confirmation, and approval by the Digital Banking Risk Team.

Cash Deposits

08. Cash handling and reporting

Tellers must verify account identifiers before posting deposits. For this simulated bank, cash deposits above INR 200,000 in one day require a supervisor review.

Operating rule / escalation

Structured or unusual patterns must be flagged for compliance assessment irrespective of the individual deposit amount.

Debit Card Management

09. Issuance and replacement

A debit card may be issued only to an active account with verified customer details. Lost cards must be blocked immediately upon verified customer notification.

Operating rule / escalation

Replacement cards carry a fictional INR 150 fee, waived when the loss results from a bank-confirmed security incident.

Internet Banking

10. Enrollment and authentication

Digital banking enrollment requires an active mobile number, validated account ownership, and multifactor authentication. Passwords and one-time passcodes must never be requested by staff.

Operating rule / escalation

Repeated failed login attempts trigger temporary access controls and an alert to the customer.

Loan Eligibility

11. Retail personal loan screening

For training purposes, applicants must be at least 21 years old and have a minimum documented monthly income of INR 25,000. Loan approval also depends on affordability and risk assessment.

Operating rule / escalation

No employee may promise approval before underwriting completes its assessment.

Credit Risk Assessment

12. Debt burden and underwriting

The simulated preferred debt-to-income ratio is 45 percent or lower. Applications above this threshold require a senior underwriter exception with written justification.

Operating rule / escalation

Credit scores, repayment history, income stability, and existing obligations are assessed together; no single metric guarantees approval.

Loan Repayment

13. EMI due dates and missed payments

Loan installments are due on the contractual due date. A customer reporting difficulty should be offered approved hardship-assistance information and a case reference.

Operating rule / escalation

For this demo policy, a payment more than 7 calendar days late is referred to the collections support queue; disputed payments must be investigated first.

Interest and Fees

14. Disclosure requirements

All quoted interest rates, processing fees, and repayment illustrations must identify the product, applicable date, and any relevant conditions.

Operating rule / escalation

Rate changes must be approved by Product Governance and published in the current product schedule before staff use them.

Fraud Detection

15. Suspicious activity handling

Unexpected device changes, rapid transfers to new beneficiaries, and repeated authentication failures are examples of activity requiring risk review.

Operating rule / escalation

Employees must not tell a customer that a confidential suspicious-activity report has been filed.

Data Privacy

16. Customer data protection

Customer records may be accessed only for legitimate job-related purposes. Sensitive account data must not be pasted into public AI tools or shared over personal messaging apps.

Operating rule / escalation

Exports containing customer identifiers require approved secure storage, access controls, and an established retention period.

Customer Complaints

17. Service-level timelines

Every complaint must receive a tracking reference. In this simulated policy, the initial acknowledgment target is 2 business days and the standard resolution target is 10 business days.

Operating rule / escalation

Complex cases requiring investigation may take up to 20 business days with proactive customer updates.

Dispute Resolution

18. Unauthorized transaction claims

A customer reporting an unauthorized digital transaction should have the incident recorded promptly, the affected channel secured where appropriate, and the claim routed to the Disputes Team.

Operating rule / escalation

Do not guarantee reimbursement; liability and reimbursement depend on investigation and applicable terms.

Exceptions and Escalations

19. Approval matrix

Frontline staff may explain policies but may not override transaction controls. Branch managers can approve documented service-fee waivers up to INR 500 in this fictional workflow.

Operating rule / escalation

Exceptions involving AML, privacy, fraud controls, or credit underwriting must be approved by the designated specialist team, never by branch discretion alone.

Versioning and RAG Guidance

20. Document precedence and retrieval

This training document is version 1.0, effective 01 October 2026. In a real deployment, policy owners should maintain effective dates, document IDs, supersession links, and approval status.

Operating rule / escalation

RAG answers should cite the page and policy section, preserve numeric thresholds, distinguish mandatory requirements from examples, and state uncertainty when evidence is absent.
